Voice of Dignity

(An Open Mic Event in Observance of International Labour Day)

The Faculty of Law hosted “Voice of Dignity,” an open mic event on International Labour Day to promote awareness of labour rights and dignity. The event began with a welcome by faculty members, followed by impactful performances by law students through poetry, music, comedy, and storytelling. Students addressed issues like low wages, exploitation, and lack of recognition with empathy and creativity. Their participation reflected deep engagement with workers’ struggles. Enthusiastic audience response and prizes for winners added to the event's spirit. The program concluded with a vote of thanks, effectively inspiring young legal minds to advocate for labour justice.
